MESSAGE FROM U. THANT

U. N. SECRETARY - GENERAL

THE SECRETARY-GENERAL OF THE UNITED NATIONS, U THANT, SENDS THIS MESSAGE TO THE UNITED NATIONS FORCE IN CYPRUS:—

"I am happy to be able to say a few words to the members of the United Nations Peace-Keeping Force in Cyprus through the "Blue Beret" which makes its first appearance to-day.

SPECIAL TASK

"The officers and men of the Force have a very special task to perform. They are soldiers of humanity pledged, without national or other interests, solely to the prevention of bloodshed and violence and to the restoration of normality in Cyprus. They have no territories to win, no enemies to conquer. They serve the noblest purpose that an armed force could serve.

IMPARTIAL

"As I stated in my report to the Security Council the Force is an impartial, objective body which operates under the mandate given to it by the Security Council and within that mandate under instructions issued by me to the Commander of the Force. It has no responsibility for political solutions and, indeed, will not try to influence them. This, as you know, is the responsibility, and a most heavy one it is, of the United Nations mediator in Cyprus, Ambassador SAKARI TUOMIOJA, who has my complete confidence. I have also the fullest confidence in General GYANI as well as the officers and men of UNFICYP. I have no doubt that, during your stay in Cyprus, you will all serve the United Nations with the discipline, restraint and compassion which the peoples of the world have come to expect from all those who work for the United Nations."

CYPRUSCOPE

It has been said that the only way to understand the problems of this beautiful island, as well as the problems of the United Nations Force, is with the aid of an instrument called the "Cypruscope". The title of this corner is to be in honour of that instrument.

With these words of caution we address ourselves to the officers and men of the Force to present the first issue of "THE BLUE BERET" — which is a weekly of the Force, by the Force and for the Force.

We intend to be the best publication of any United Nations peace-keeping operation; but in order to achieve this we need the co-operation of all the officers and men of UNFICYP. Our intention is to publish information about the Contingents and their specific problems. We therefore appeal to all members of the Force to send us articles, news items, anecdotes and suggestions.

As regards our peace-keeping task we would suggest to our readers to acquaint themselves with the terms of the Security Council resolution of 4 March 1964, published in this issue. If after that, and after your briefings and directives from your commanding officers, you still have doubts, consult your "Cypruscope."

Cyprus Wines

Commandaria

This sweet dessert wine is named after the "Grand Commandery" of the Knights of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem (Hospitalier). The "Grand Commandery" was the main feud of the Knights in Cyprus and it occupied a large part of the district of Limassol, its headquarters being at the Castle of KOLOSSI.

The wine is the oldest named wine in the world and has been well known in Mediterranean Countries and Europe since the 12th Century, and is said to have been introduced by the Crusaders.

To-day the wine which is made from part dried grapes is stored in the vats of the village co-operative societies. The main villages which produce this wine are ZOOPIYI, KALOKHORIO and AYIOS CONSTANTINOS. They are all near Agros which is in the Troodos Range.

When King Richard I of England married Berengaria at Limassol in 1192 he celebrated the marriage with Commandaria. In England it became the favourite wine of the Plantagenet Kings and in 1362 it was drunk at a great banquet called the "Feast of the Five Kings".

Selim II, Sultan of Turkey was so taken by the taste of this wine that, it is said, he ordered the capture of Cyprus saying "within this island there is a treasure which only the King of Kings is worthy of possessing".

TERMS OF REFERENCE

On 13 April 1964 the United Nations Secretary-General issued an aide-memoire on the function and operation of UNFICYP. In this document it is stated that:—

Executive control of all units of UNFICYP is exercised by the Commander of the Force and the Secretary-General is responsible for its direction.

The personnel of the Force must refrain from expressing publicly any opinion on political problems in Cyprus, and must act with restraint and impartiality towards members of both communities.

It is permissible to use armed force only in defence of UN Personnel, Posts, Premises and Vehicles that come under armed attack, and then only when all peaceful means of stopping the attacks have failed. The decision in such circumstances shall be that of the commander on the spot.

Advance warning will be given whenever possible and the principle of minimum force shall be applied at all times.

UN NEWS

The Commander on the spot will approach the local leaders of both communities and will try to persuade them to accept a cease fire. If this fails it may be necessary to set up U.N. posts between the two factions.

All activities of UNFICYP must be within the framework of the terms of reference outlined in paragraph 5 of the Resolution accepted by the Security Council on 4 March 1964.

Dr. BUNCHE VISITS CYPRUS

DR RALPH BUNCHE, the United Nations Under-Secretary for Special Political Affairs, flew to Cyprus on the 8th April for a four day visit.

This visit was part of a routine trip on behalf of the United Nations Secretary - General, U THANT, to see the UN Peace Operations in Cyprus, Gaza and Kashmir. Talks were also held with the President of the Republic, Archbishop Makarios, the Vice-President, Dr. Kuchuk, and Mr Sakari Tuomioja who is the United Nations Mediator in Cyprus.

During his stay here Dr Bunche, accompanied by Ge-

Among those he saw were Paphos and Ktima where soldiers of the British Contingent were serving, the Nicosia positions and the Kyrenia hills where members of the Canadian Contingent had recently taken over from British Troops.

Dr Bunche said he had gained much useful information on the problems in Cyprus and that these were hard to visualise at the United Nations Headquarters in New York. BRITISH ARMY SOCCER CUP — 13 APRIL 64

16 PARA RAOC/REME
Win Replayed Final

First Success of Minor Unit in Competition

With just fourteen Soccer players available in a total strength of less than 100 officers and men, 16 Para RAOC/REME became the first minor unit ever to win the Army Soccer Cup in the 76 years' history of the competition when they defeated the 13th/18th Royal Hussars (Queen Mary's Own) (BAOR) by two goals to one in a replayed Final at Aldershot Military Stadium after 210 minutes of dour struggling.

The minor unit's triumph was the culmination of three weeks' intensive football in which they played off six cup-ties while their fellow soldiers in the unit worked overtime in Cyprus to keep their team in the United Kingdom.

The 16 Para RAOC/REME did not lead in the marathon Final until after three hours play — and then the winner came from centre-forward Craftsmen Fred Shears. In the original match, the Hussars twice took the lead through Trooper Mike Foy and Trooper Ken Buckingham, and twice the Para equalised — through Craftsman John McRobie and Shears. Then in the replay the Hussars again went in front through Buckingham, and once more the indomitable Paras levelled, this time through Sergeant Jack Wigley. Finally with half an hour to go, came the Shear's goal which settled everything.

Skipper Corporal Ray Wilson proudly accepted the trophy from Lieutenant-General Sir Roderick Macleod, and the Paras' own band played them off the field in triumph. If it had been another drawn game there would not have been a second replay, for it had been arranged that the rivals should each hold the trophy for six months.
