UNANIMOUS SECURITY COUNCIL DECISION

THREE MORE MONTHS

AT THE MEETING OF THE SECURITY COUNCIL ON SATURDAY MORNING, 20 JUNE 1964, THE RESOLUTION RECOMMENDING AN EXTENSION OF THREE MORE MONTHS TO THE MANDATE OF UNIFICYP WAS ADOPTED UNANIMOUSLY.

During the debate representatives of the countries concerned in the Cyprus question put forward their own governments' view.

THE DEBATE

Ambassador Orhan Erkip of Turkey drew a picture of continuing attacks on Turkish Cypriots by Greek Cypriots and said that Turkey truly desired independence for Cyprus, whereas the Greek Cypriots wanted union with Greece.

Mr. Spyros Kyprianou, Cyprus' foreign minister, said the danger was the threat of Turkish invasion. His government, he said, was prepared to guarantee the human rights of everybody in Cyprus but was not willing to negotiate. The right of the majority to rule.

The representative of Greece said that the crisis was created entirely by the leaders of the Turkish community in Cyprus and by the government of Turkey.

All members however praised particularly the efforts which were made by the Secretary-General. U Thant, and his mediator in Cyprus, Ambassador Tuomioja, towards the solution of the Cyprus problem.

262 win by 29 runs

The UN team continued its losing run when it met 262 Signals Squadron at Dhelkela on Thursday the 15th June. However it did better that expected. The home team batted first and to the fielders' delight wickets fell quickly. Despite dropping runners 262 Signal reached 94 all out. McCulloch was the successful bowler with 5 for 21. Graham took 2 for 15 and Burris, Hardy and Calvert shared the rest.

UN hopes of a good score soon faded and the side was almost retired for 38, but the last pair took the total to 65. The scorers were Graham 15 and McPheal 15 not out.

James McCulloch.

The "Tailor and Cutter" suggests that Cricketing clothes should be green instead of the traditional white. A leading article makes another unconventional proposal: "The Bowler takes off his cap and hands it to the umpire. There seems to be no reason why he should not doff his trousers and hand them along with it, giving extra speed to his delivery with a run-up accelerated by a pair of practically weightless jockey pants!"
