MEDIATOR RESIGNS

Galo Plaza's decision accepted 'with great regret'

M.R. Galo Plaza, the United Nations Mediator on Cyprus, has submitted his resignation to Secretary-General U Thant. The texts of the letters exchanged were released on Friday, 31 December, at United Nations Headquarters in New York as a Security Council document.

The text from Mr. Plaza, datelined Quito, (Ecuador) 22 December, to the Secretary-General, is as follows:

"You will recall that after the Government of Turkey and the Turkish Cypriot leadership made known last April their neagtive reaction to my report on the mediation activities on Cyprus, I agreed at your request to remain at the disposal of the parties concerned for the continuation of the mediation effort in accordance with the Security Council resolution of 4 March 1964.

It was not without long and painstoking thought that I took this decision, for I found myself with a most difficult dilemma. On the one hand, the controversy that had arisen over my report did not concern me alone, but through me it affected the principle of United Nations mediation and therefore all future mediation activities.

On the other hand, I was fully aware that as long as the Turkish side maintained its negative attitude, I could not function effectively as mediator.

In spite of this, I agreed ta remain at the disposal of the parties because I was still hopeful that certain new elements would be injected into the Cyprus question in the foreseeable future, which might help overcome the Impasse reached in the mediation effort. I was thinking particularly of the fact that the General Assembly was scheduled to take up the question of Cyprus at Its 20th Session, for the first time since the outbreak of intercommunal struggle on the island in December 1963.

This debate of the General Assembly has now taken place. As you know, I have closely followed the recent consideration by both the General Assembly and the Security Couneil of the question of Cyprus, and I have taken note of the results of the deliberations of each organ, especially insofar as they have had a bearing on the responsibilities which I assumed when you designated me as the mediator.

While I have naturally been encouraged to observe the extent of the support expressed by Member States for the past effort at mediation in the context of the Security Council Resolution of 4 March 1964 and for the continuation of those efforts — which you yourself have always supported — I feel bound to continue to take account of the positions of those particular parties to the dispute to whom my terms of reference injoin me to address my endeavours.

Among these parties, the Government of Turkey has, through a statement made by its Permanent Representative to the United Nations as recently as the meeting of the Security Council on 17 December 1965, described as irrevocable its position that the present arrangements for mediation are unacceptable to him. As you know, the Government concerned has made it clear that this position rises from its attitude towards the contents of the Report which I submitted to you, in accordance with my terms of reference, on 26 March 1965.

I should like now to confirm to you the point of view which I have expressed to you on a number of occasions since the publication of my

CANCON make it a Happy Christmas for sick children

I F YOU couldn't be home with members of your own family for Christmas there was usually plenty of Yuletide spirit in doing something for others.

Here, where warm weather made it difficult to think of Santa Claus or "Old Saint Nick", soldiers of the Canadian Contingent gave the idea a good try.

Special party guests of the Canadian Provost Corps and their UN Military Police counterparts were deaf Greek Cypriot children at Morphou. The Recce Squadron, Royal Canadian Dragoons entertained sick Turkish Cypriot children in the Red Crescent Hospital, Nicosia, and the 2nd Canadian Guards the Greek Cypriot and Turkish Cypriot sick and crippled children in the Red Cross Hospital for Sick Children, Kyrenia.

Because of the thoughtfulness of the Canadian soldiers, Christmas was brightened for hundreds of Cypriot chilfern who would have spent a lonely day.

The first party was given by the Canadian Provost Corps and members of the UN Military Police. It was for over 70 deaf children of the Morphou School for Deaf Children. At the party, Cpl. William (Bill) Shadforth, played Santa Claus and presented gifts and candies to the children.

Officers and men of the Royal Canadian Dragons threw a Christmas party for over fifty young children at the Red Crescent Hospital, in Nicosia. The soldiers, 99 of them, in the reconnoissance squadron, bought toys, candies and cookies from a fund they created for this purpose. They also supplied a hot dinner and served it to the children while fiddler Cpl. Arthur Couture and guitarist Sgt. Gerald A. Scott entertained them. After the meal which was prepared and served under the direction of Sgt. N. P. MacAskill, many of the children danced a local version of the Hoedown with their soldier hosts.

The last of the 1965 Christmas parties, for some 35 sick and crippled Cypriot children was held at the Red Cross Home for Sick Children, Kyrenia. It was sponsored by members of the 2nd Canadian Guards. For the occasion Santa Claus came to the hospital via helicopter and was taken to a specially decorated dormitory where he gave gifts to the children. The dormitory, the dining area and the halls were all decorated by members of the Battalion who also supplied the

The front of a 14th century sarcophagus now preserved in the old building opposite the Paphos Gate Police Station in Nicosia shows a member of the Lusignan family, probably the King, kneeling in prayer. He wears a surcoat displaying the Lusignan arms, a lion on a barry field, over his chain mail.

The arms are the essential part of any achievement and they may constitute the whole armorial bearing. However, if we are to use the expression "an Achievement of Arms" we usually think of an armorial bearing with more component parts.

The crest is a device which is carried upon a helm in association with the mantling and crest wreath or a crest coronet. There are not very many arms with crests to be found in Cyprus. Until the year survived over the doorway of at the Land Gate at Famaguthe Venetian Palazzo Pubblico in the centre of Nicosia (more or less where the Saray Hotel now stands). I have not been able to locate its remains but I think they are still preserved somewhere in Nicosia.

The early 14th century manuscript 'Armorial Gelre'' in Belgium has an excellent representation of the Lusignan Arms with crest. The arms are the quarterings of Jerusalem and Lusignan. The helm is almost cylindrical in form, it is the type which is called rgreat helm because it was worn over the bascinet in combat,

> The mantling is held in position by a mural crown. It is very unusual for a family, and especially for a royal family to have a mural crown on the helm. Normally we find a crest wreath or torse and in the case of the higher nobility it is often a crest coronet.

The crest itself is a funnel spotted with small crosses and surmounted by a plume of feathers, called a panache Crests came into use early in the 14th century. They were splendid objects made of a fairly lightweight material, such as moulded leather, thin wood, or canvas stretched over a wicker frame. It is doubtful whether crests were used in warfare, but in the most spectacular form of sport, the tournament, they certainly played an important part.

The crest is replaced by an open coronet. Royal crowns with arches spanning the circlet are not known in heraldry until the end of the 16th century.

The coronet is upheld and the shield is supported by two angels. These angels are not "supporters" in the heraldic sense of the word, they are designed for purely decorative and religious reasons. There is in heraldry a charming anomaly in having the pride of lineage in this world supported by carved images of angelic beings of the next,

The lower part of the shield is supported by two swords with belts. This is the badge of the Order of the Sword, one of the oldest orders of Chivalry in the world and according to legend founded by Guido de Lusignan in 1194 and re-established by Peter I (1359 - 1369).

Katherine Cornaro died in 1510 but the Lusignan arms were not buried with her. The Doges of Venice continued to display the quarterings as did the house of Savoy who claimed to be considered as the heir of the Lusignans. Helgens största party hölls på Grecian Hotel i Famagusta, där svenska bataljonen stod som värd för DET STORA BARNKALASET. Där bjöds det på såug och dans kring granen, suft och tårta och allehanda leksakersamt naturligtvis en jultomte med julklappssäck. Ett 60-tal barn från sex nationer deltog i den minuesvärda festen.

Barn från sex nationer dansade in det nya året

Med ett hejdundrande barnka-Ias på Hotel Grecian i Famagusta hälsade den svenska bataljonen det nya året. Över 60-talet barn från sex nationer roades och roade sig under två hektiska eftermiddagstimmar i söndags, och deras föräldrar tycktes inte heller ha tråkigt.

Det hela började med stort saftparty och tårta och långbord för de unga, medan de äldre fick nöja sig med sherry och kaffe - och tårta, förstås. Sedan blev det dans kring granen till svenska toner, frambringade av bl.a. chefen för 1. kompaniet, major Erik Ahlberg, som givetvis tagit med sig dragspelet.

Den svenske zonchefen, överste Iwan Hörnquist, underhöll sig med bl.a. chefen för Dekhelia-basen, brigadier Jack Marchant med makå medan hans ställföreträdare, "partygeneralen" överstelöjtnant Hans Håård, mysande gick omkring i barnaskaran och konstaterade att han och major Âke Hedlund hade all anledning att vara nöjda med sitt nyårspåhitt.

Danska, finska, norska, engelska, cypriotiska och svenska barn jublade kring fiskdammen, och ännu livligare blev det givetvis, när jultomten stövlade in i salen med sin stora säck och började dela ut julklappar.

Det var lite svårt för föräldrarna att få alla telningar att så småningom dra sig hemåt, för det var verkligen ett KALAS!

Så nog gjorde svenska bataljonen vad den kunde för att det nya åretskulle få en bra start!

Zonchefens Nyarsorder

I nför det nya året har den svenske zonchefen, överste Iwan Hörnquist, utfärdat en dagorder, där han inledningsvis konstaterar att svenskarna på Cypern nu har kämpat tillsammans ungefär tre månader.

Det har varit tre händelserika månader - utbildningen på Kvarn, det spänningsladdade läget inom Famagusta Zone, när den nya bataljonen övertog ansvaret, upptrappningen av motsättningarna, striderna i början av november, sedan den månadslånga förhandlingsperioden, vilken ju som bekant resulterade i demilitariseringsöverenskommelsen.

—För vars och ens helhjärtade insats vid fullgörandet av olika uppgifter under alle dessa skiftande förhållanden uttrycker jag min stora tacksamhet, säger överste Hörnquist.

---Vad det nya året för med sig för vår FN-tjänst är ovisst. Med de erfarenheter vi redan har vet vi dock att beredskapen mot kastningar i läget måste vara hög och viljan till snabb aktion stark.

-Vi vet också att omkring 200 kamrater tyvärr måste lämna bataljonen under årets första månad. Det är ingen lätt operation. Jag vet alt många som måste lämna skutan har problem vid hemkomsten med arbete, bostad och ekonomi. För dem som blir kvar ökar arbeisbördan. Bataljonens uppgift ändras inte. Vad 950 man hittills gjort skall 750 man framdeles utföra.

—Jag är dock övertygad om, slutar överste Hörnquist sin dagorder inför det nya året, att med det goda kamratskap som genomsyrar bataljonen vi gemensamt på ett hedervärt sätt skall genomföra nedskärningen och klara de ökade arbetsbördorna.

Jag tillönskar alla i den svenska kontingenten ETT GOTT NYTT ÂR!

Spelare underkânde eget offside-mâl:

Att en domare dömer bort ett mål händer ju då och då men att ett helt lag dömer bort ett egenhändigt inspelat mål torde höra till ovanligheterna.

Denna unika situation inträffade emellertid i söndags, då STR:s fotbollslag på Ayos Sergios stadion i Salamis-trakten mötte div. III-klubben Salamis Athletic Club. Svenskarna vann med 4-3men den segern satt långt inne!

När ungefär 10 min. återstod av speltiden var ställningen 3-3. Då kom ett häftigt regn varför domaren blåste av matchen. Men regnet lättade, och då inhoppade i bilden en ny domare, som blåste till spel igen.

Efter några minuters spel i denna "tredje" halvlek gjorde grekcyprioterna ett mål som var så klart föregånget av en off-sideposition att hela det svenska försvaret stannade upp, i väntan på signalen. Men domaren godkände målet och blåste för avspark. Då protesterade hela det grekcypriotiska laget och klargjorde att det målet ville man inte ha godkänt, eftersom det så uppenbart förelåg ett off-side-läge! Och domaren fick ge med sig.

Spelet fortsatte, och STR lyckades före slutsignalen peta in ett segermål, som godkändes av alla parter.....

Och vid det utomordentligt trevliga samkväm som följde efter matchen hyllades svenskarna för sin seger.

Lika bra gick det inte för bataljonslaget, som samma dag i Old City i Fainagusta mötte Turkish Sporting Club. Efter halvtidsledning med 3-1 slocknade svensk laget totalt, och turkcyprioterna spelade hem segern med 7-4. Svenskarna föreföll inte särskilt vältränade. Många uttalade misstanken att de tränat mera kring julborden än på forbollsplanen. Men, som sagt, det var ju bara en misstanke.....

Fast nog hade kanske det svenska laget gjort en bättre insats, om inte fotbollsbasen Tore Mellbris varit på Sverige-leave före jul! Skärpning anbefalles alltså inför det nya årets matcher! Den svenska Cypern-bataljonen drabbades strax före jul av ett dystert meddelandeden svenska regeringen hade gått med på att skära ner bataljonen med omkring 200 man från mitten av januari 1966.

Bataljonsledningen satte omedelbart igång med den svåra uppgiften att välja ut de mannar som skall sändas hem omkring den 15 januari. I princip fick var och en av dessa utvalda ett personligt besked ser ast på julafton.

Det var naturligtvis inte det allra gladaste julbudskapet, men alla tycktes förstå att operationen var nödvändig och mottog därför beskedet med gott humör. Och alla deltog i julfirandet utan sura miner.

Bataljonens uppgift inom Famagusta Zone ändras dock inte. I fortsättningen måste alltså 750 man utföra vad 950 man hittills klarat av. Det ställer ännu större krav på de kvarvarande svenska FN-soldaterna på Cypern!

Todistuksena toiminnan onnistumisesta voidaan pitää sitä, että järjestölle uskottiin-menneen vuoden aikana lisää näitä tehtäviä Karibean alueella ja Intia-Pakistan valisessä kiistassa.

Myös YK-järjestön toiminta inmiskunnan taloudellis-sosiaalisten olosuhteitten parantamiseksi saa merkitä ansiokseen monta huomattavaa saavutusta. Nimenomaan ns. teknillis-taloudellisen avustustoiminnan kentällä on kansainvälisen yhteistyön avulla aikaansaatu monia huomattavia edistysaskeleita.

Menneen vuoden viimeisellä neljänneksella saatiin Yleiskokouksen toiminnalle palauteutuksi normaalit työskentely edellytykset, minkä vuoksi sellaiset maailman ja ihmiskunnan tulevalle kehitykselle tärkeät kysymykset kuin aseriisunta, ydinaseiden kayton kieltaminen ja kansainvalisen kaupan yhteistyo on saatettu jälleen ottaa käsiteltäväksi järjeston pääelimissa.

Pääsihteeri U Thant totesi maailmanjärjestön työn ansiosta meillä vähitellen olevan yhä paremmat mahdollisuudet köyhyyden tyrannian ja aseellisten selkkausten asettaman vaaran kukistamiseksi. Maailma on vähitellen kehittymässä terveemmäksi ja turvallisemmaksi. Kuitenkin meidän kaikkien työpanosta tarvitaan edelleen ja on vain toivottavaa, että alkanut vuosi toisi nukanaan ainakin yhtä suurta edistystä kuin juuri päättynyt. On muistettava, että vaikka tehtävämme ovat vaikeita, eivät ne missään nimessa ole ylivoimaisia.

Late last September, doctors of the Austrian Field Hospital, led by the then Commanding Officer, Lieutenant Colonel Erich Narodoslovsky, fouht for hours to save the life of a Finnish Private of YKSP 3. After twelve hours of non-stop work, the man, Raimo Merilainen began to recover (see Blue Beret No 27 of Sept. 29).

The Commander-in-Chief of the Finnish Defence Farce, General Yrjö Keinonen, has awarded the Silver Plaque of the Finnish Defence Force to both the Field Hospital and Colonel Narodoslavsky as a token of gratitude.

Disarmament the key to peace in our time'

THE United Nations' conti-nuing concern with the problems of disarmament and economic and social development was reflected last week in a message from the U.N. Secretary-General, U Thant, to the 15th Pugwash Conference on Science and World Affairs which opened in Addis Ababa.

The message to the gathering of scientists and philosophers from many lands emphasized U Thant's conviction that disormament is the key to peace in our time.

Stating that past delibera-tions of the Conference had had contributed substantially to a better understanding of the problem, U Thant, said he looked forward to further constructive consideration of this vital matter.

The Secretary-General also stressed the importance of positive scientific cooperation for the sake of lasting peace, as well as of a general progress of mankind.

Noting that the new meeting was dedicated to the subject of science in aid to developing countries, U Thant said he was gratified that specific attention was being given to the crucial question of speeding economic and social development, with direct reference to continuing discussion on the means of reducing the armament burden.

Secretary - General The pointed out that the subject of the meetings of the Pugwash Conference was an essential preocupation of the United Nations and its agencies.

GALO PLAZA RESIGNS

Report. In brief, my primary and overriding concern has been and re-mains for the position of the United Nations mediation effort, and not for the status of the United Nations mediator personally. I am confident that you have always understood my readiness to relinquish my responsi-bilities as mediator at the very first moment when it might be concluded that my services could no longer con-tribute to the couse of mediation. After considering the matter fur-ther in the light of the recent de-bates and resolutions to which I have referred and of the other circumstan-ces mentioned above, I have conclud-ed that in the interests of the con-tinuation of efforts to find a solu-tion to the Cyprus problem, I should now submit my resignation from the position of mediator on Cyprus."

The text of the letter from the Secretary-General, dated-30 December, to Mr. Plaza, is as follows:

"I acknowledge receipt of your let-ter of 22 December 1965 from Quito submitting your resignation from the position of United Nations Mediator on Cyprus.

It is with great regret that I learn of your final decision on this mat-ter. I fully sympathize with you and, as I had occasion to tell you during our recent discussions here at Head-quarters, I understand your views about the difficult and awkward sh-tuation in which you have been placed by the present impasse in the media-tion activities, and also your desire not to stand in the way of a resumption of the mediation effort. I am very sorry about the circumstances that have, unnecessarily in my view, created this situation.

There can be little doubt, I fear, that it will be extremely difficult, in the light of what has happened, to reactivate the mediation procedure envisaged by the Security Cauncil in its Resolutian of 4 March 1964. How-ever, I will spare no efforts to bring about a resumption of mediation, and hope that the parties directly concerned will display the utmost good will towards this end. It is my most sincere hope that, in view of your wide experience and out-standing service in the cause of the United Nations, you will agree to be available for further service in one capacity or another.

I take this opportunity to express to you once more my gratitude for your willingness to continue to be at the service of the parties during these several months, and for having done so, on your own insistence, without accepting a salary except when actively engaged in your fun-ctions. ctions.

I have had occasian to express in the past what I should like to reaf-firm now, namely my deep appreci-ation of the work you have accom-plished as United Nations mediator on Cyprus and before that as my Special Representive there. In this respect, I refer particularly to your report, which I continue to regard as a most important contribution to the seorch for a just and losting solu-tion to the Cyprus problem.

It is my intention to have your letter and this reply circulated as a Security Council Document."
